

Paper Sessions & Number of Papers per Session: (38 papers in all)

Tuesday 11th		Tuesday 11th		Friday 14th
Paper Session A (4) Thinking About Countrysides				Paper Session E (4) Environmental Issues
9,00	Tony Sorensen, University of New England, Australia: The emergence of the creative countryside			9,00	Lucette Laurens, INRA-SAD UMR Innovation Montpellier, France: Terroire et olivier: un objet de recherche pluridisciplinaire entre sciences sociales et sciences biotechniques
9,20	Alexander Mather, University of Aberdeen, Scotland: Is Post-Productivism real?			9,20	Scott Hoefle & Renata Ribeiro de Oliveira, FURJ, Brazil: Environmental ethics, landscape domestication and rural modernisation in the Amazon
9,40	Paulus Huigen, University of Groningen, The Netherlands & Richard Willis, Victoria University of Wellington, NZ: Constructing countrysides			9,40	Chris Bryant et al, Université de Montréal and McGill University, Canada: Adaptation of farming and farming communities to the extreme climatic events: Looking at the past to understand the adaptation to climatic change
10,00	Daichi Kohmoto, Hiroshima University, Japan: Productivism and Post-Productivism in Plantation Agriculture: the case of tea estates in Sri Lanka			10,00	Timothy Rickard, Central Connecticut state University, USA: Rural sustainability issues for national parks: a comparison between Acadia and Pembrokeshire Coast national Parks
10,20	Morning Tea			10,20	Morning Tea
Paper Session B (5) Landscapes and Rural Communities				Paper Session F (4) Changes in the Rural Urban Fringe
11,00	Koji Kobayashi, Gifu University, Japan: Problems of living conditions in a mountain village in Japan: especially problems of heavy snow			11,00	Hugh Millward, Saint Mary's University, Canada: Metropolis in the wilderness: regional land use planning for Halifax, Canada, 1960-2005
11,20	Ivan Bicik, Charles University, Czech Republic: Transformation of the Czech landscape and villages			11,20	Mitsuru Yamamoto, Saitama University, Japan: Population Changes and rural gentrification in rural resorts on the outskirts of Tokyo metropolitan area
11,40	Serge Schmitz, University of Liege, Belgium: Imlil (High Atlas): the Toubkal, the Track, the local community and the tour operators			11,40	John Selwood, University of Winnipeg, Canada: Near urban agriculture in Ukraine and Russia
12,10	Doo-Chul Kim & Shinya Maeta, Okayama University, Japan: Community-based arable land management in Japan: sustainable or unsustainable?			12,10	Toshio Kikuchi, Tokyo Metropolitan University, Japan: Sustainable development of suburban dairying with the recreating rurality in the outer fringes of Tokyo Metropolis
12,30	David Grossman, Bar-Ilan University, Israel: Equality, communality, and land use in the changing Israeli Kibbutz			12,30	Farewell Lunch
12,50	Lunch
Paper Session C.1 (5) Development of Rural Regions I		Paper Session C.2 (5) Rural Policy-Making
13,50	Mary Cawley, NUI Galway, Ireland: Adding value and promoting local sustainability: evidence from rural tourism in Ireland	Maria Grillotti di Giacomo & Aldo Telleschi, University of Pisa, Italy: Agricultural geography in Italy with reference to the national and international agricultural policy
14,10	Sattar Sadrmousavi, Tabriz university, Iran: Rural tourism in East Azerbaijan: potentials for development	Ana Firmino, New University of Lisbon, Portugal: Renewable energies in Portugal: between hope and disquiet
14,30	Lucka Lorber, University of Maribor, Slovenia: The impact of restructuring the economy on sustainable development of the Slovene rural countryside	Cai Yunlong, Beijing University, China: Equilibrating the conflict of land demands for urbanisation and food security

14,50	Michael Sofer, Bar-Ilan University, Israel: Yaqona and the Fijian periphery: local response to the development processes	Hikomicho Nagashima, Kokushikan University, Japan: Certification system of organic agricultural products in Japan
15,10	Yehuda Gradus, Ben Gurion University of the Negev, Israel: Immigration and globalisation and their impact on regional development: the case of Israel's Negev	Wang Pengfei, University of Tsukuba, Japan: Changes of resource use patterns and state policies in the rural Beijing City, China
15,30	Afternoon Tea
	Paper Session D.1 (5) Development of Rural Regions II	Paper Session D.2 (6) Issues in Land Use Cover Change
16,00	Ana Bicalho & Isabela Castro de Paula, FURJ, Brazil: Agrarian reform and the limits to social mobility in northern Rio de Janeiro State - Brazil	Ivan Bikic, Dusan Drbohlav and Eva Janska, Charles University, Czech Republic: The Landscape Atlas of the Czech Republic
16,20	Dagoberto Hernando-Acevedo & Chris Bryant, Université de Montréal, Canada: Adaptation of farming and farming communities to the extreme climatic events: looking at the past to understand the adaptation to climatic change	Katsuhiko Yamashita, Hokkaido University, Japan: The preliminary study on LUCC with implications for regional policy - comparative perspectives between Japan and China
16,40	Aldo Telleschi, Enrica Lemmi, Monica Tangheroni & Mirco De Leo, University of Pisa, Italy: Tuscan rural spaces: from tradition to sustainability	E Manzi, B Cori, G Cortesi and Elena Izis, University of Pisa, Italy: LUCC, landscape and Mediterranean: new steps in the Italian research
17,00	Irit Amit-Cohen, Tel Aviv University, Israel: Cultural landscapes: definitions and implications for preserving rural landscapes - the case of the Kibbutz in Israel	Jakub Langhammer, Charles University, Czech Republic: Anthropogenic modifications of floodplain as factor of flood risk
17,20	Paolo Federici, University of Pisa, Italy: Genesis and evolution of the terraced landscape of Liguria (Italy)	Petr Baklanov, Pacific Institute of Geography, Russia: Matrix model of regional wildlife management
17,40		Yukio Himiyama, Hokkaido University of Education, Japan: A comparison of urbanisation in Japan and China